REGIONAL PLANNING

The State organizes local workforce boards into Regional Planning Units (RPUs) to plan for stronger regional economies and coordinated services. RPUs develop a 4-year Regional Plan.

The Bay-Peninsula Regional Planning Unit includes:

- NOVAworks (San Mateo & Santa Clara)
- Work2future (San Jose & Santa Clara)
- SFOEWD / WISF (San Francisco County)

Shared Projects:

- California Jobs First / Regional Investment Initiative Project
- National Dislocated Worker Grant (NDWG) - CAREER
- Regional and Local WIOA Plan Development
- Regional Stakeholder Engagement, Coordination, and Public Meetings
- Regional Cost-Sharing & MOUs

ACTION REQUESTED

*OEWD requests WISF to conditionally approve the PY 25-27
Local Area Subsequent Designation and Board
Certification and permit Board Chair signature.*

BOARD DISCUSSION QUESTIONS

- In the context of a changing economic and labor market, what are your organization's concerns?
- What are the region's major workforce challenges?
- How is your organization centering equity, job quality, and career advancement in your work?
- What is your vision for how the local and regional workforce systems and stakeholders can address the region's key challenges?
- What challenges and opportunities do you foresee in integrating climate resilience into your organization's or community's long-term planning?
- Any other considerations?
