Hi Michael,

I was in Pecto (for the first time) in the Mission earlier today and I was surprised to see the sale of parakeets. It is my understanding that these are very intelligent and social birds and it was heartbreaking to see them in a glass box, with no human interaction or seemingly meaningful stimulation.

Has the selling of these birds in Petco come up in your commission?

Are these birds coming from breeders?

It just didn't seem right.

Thank you for any more information you might have on this.

Best,

Avery
