The Art Vendor Advisory Committee will only screen two crafts per meeting. If you want to screen for additional crafts, you will need to complete a new application after you have been approved for two. How many crafts are you applying for? Example: Beaded jewelry and watercolor paintings on canvas are two crafts;

I am applying for only one craft

ceramic pendants and ceramic bowls are one craft (Ceramic items)

Please list your one craft item to be screened: Photographic Prints

Are you a current art vendor adding an additional craft?

No

A family unit is two (2) or more persons jointly engaged in the creation of an art or craft item. Is this an application for a Family Unit?

No

Artist Biography (Please provide a short biography about yourself and your craft):

With a decade of experience behind the lens, Bay View Media (BVM) is a photographer and videographer whose work spans the diverse landscapes of the United States and beyond. Specializing in street and landscape photography, [he/she/they] captures the raw authenticity of urban life alongside the breathtaking majesty of natural environments. BVM's versatile approach encompasses aerial, digital, and film photography, allowing for a rich variety of perspectives and textures. From the intimate grain of analog film to the crisp precision of digital capture and the sweeping vistas achieved through aerial work, each medium serves as a distinct tool for visual storytelling. BVM has sold prints in shows throughout the Bay Area, including Santa Cruz, San Francisco, San Mateo, and Berkeley. In-person shows provide a chance for the general public to purchase prints for their homes, living spaces, work, and gifts for others. These unique and high-quality prints often serve as reminders of places patrons have been or inspire dreams of where they wish to go next. Each piece becomes more than decoration—it's a portal to memory and a compass for future adventures.

1. Describe the items you plan to sell and how each type of item is made. Please be as detailed as possible. Example: I plan to sell digital photographic prints of artwork that I designed in Illustrator and printed on cardstock using a home printer.

I plan to sell photographic prints of images I have personally captured during my travels across the United States and internationally. My collection primarily features photographs from California, Japan, and Mexico, with additional work from locations like New York City, Hawaii, and Vancouver. The prints will be available in two main size options to accommodate different buyer preferences and price points. Customers can choose between framed or unframed prints, allowing flexibility based on their display needs and budget. After I capture the images in digital, film, or aerial settings, I then color grade them in Lightroom. I then print them on a professional grade printer, and package them in my home studio

2. Where did you learn your craft? Did you take a class or learn on your own?

I received my first camera when I was 18 and have been drawn to the lenses of photography and videography ever since. I've never taken a formal class but have learned from a community of friends on the east coast, many of whom are professional photographers. I do often reference Youtube and other forums for technical tips on subjects like color grading. 2025 was the first year I began selling my prints in person.

Please provide up to two (2) images of your craft in process. The images should include you demonstrating your process. See an example here

Additionally, artists may upload a video (up to five minutes) of their process. See an example video here.

4. Is your craft considered an American Indian or Alaskan Native style, traditional or contemporary, arts and crafts? Do you identify as a member of the community that practices this cultural tradition? Are you compliant with The Indian Arts and Crafts Act of 1990?

No, my craft is not considered American Indian or Alaskan Native style, and no I do not identify as a member of the community that practices this cultural tradition.

5. What makes your work different from other artists and craftspeople making similar items?

My versatility in using digital, film, and aerial photography provides multiple perspectives and points of view for my audience. I also take pride in my high quality printing process and attention to detail which results in high resolution and vibrant final images. I also do not use any AI in my images, they are a direct by-product of my travels and labor. My work also appeals to a high percentage of California residents as a lot of my portfolio is from California, Mexico, and Japan. I also ensure reasonable pricing so people of all economic backgrounds can own high quality pieces of art. Finally, given I control my entire print process, the prints are limited in number (many of them are not posted online so the only time my audience can purchase is in person).

(Optional) Please provide an artist CV or Résumé:

Yes

9. Are you using any sports or company logos such as SF Giants or other recognizable branding that is not your own?

No

10. How are you ensuring customers can tell a difference between your work and commercial or mass-produced items?

I'm always ready to discuss when I captured individual images, the camera settings used, the color grading methodology, and the print process. I often have many photos that I don't post or share from the same trips to verify I am the photographer. I also limit the promotion of my work online out of concern it may be taken for an unauthorized reproduction by humans or AI. Almost every photo is also labeled with my Trademark.

11. What steps have you taken to ensure that you are not violating any copyright or other laws?

I've researched the relevant laws around my photography business. Most of my work is landscape photography which has minimal IP issues associated with it. My other work is street photography, which undergoes an internal review to ensure no issues are present. I have become an FAA licensed Part 107 UAV (Drone) pilot to ensure I have complied with all applicable rules and regulations.

14. Describe the safety procedures you use in your craft. What, if any, safety equipment do you use? How do you store and handle any toxic or hazardous material?

I have minimal safety concerns with my business. The ink used to make the images are non-toxic dye based ink tanks. Most other materials (packaging materials) are made of paper, cardboard and wood. I generally do not handle toxic chemicals. When selling in person, I always ensure safety features like sand bags on the legs of the tent to reduce the likelihood of any issues. I also carry drone and event insurance should anything go wrong.
