Manager Asja Steeves presented the SFPD's 3rd and 4th Quarter 2025 Sparks Report.

Dr. Pamela, Black Women Revolt Against Domestic Violence SF, stated it was an honor to serve as a member of the DGO 6.09 working group. She spoke of working to consolidate forms to help officers. She spoke of lifting up Marcie's law and making sure that people know which rights they need to ask for. She stated it was a real honor to sit with police officers and community members to actually have dialogues instead of having assumptions.

Officer Brian Santana, Mission Station, addressed the Commission regarding policy changes. He spoke of a specific DGO regarding domestic violence. He said that policy that was enacted was about 20 pages of dense, convoluted legal wording that was very difficult to understand and remember especially when you're on a chaotic domestic violence scene. He spoke of being invited to participate in the working group hoping to provide a police officer's side of the story on the new policy when written. He stated that having community members, stake holders, and subject matter experts in the group was insightful and valuable and provided things he would not have understood from his perspective as an officer. He hopes that this process continues where officers can provide input on new policies while also including the community.

Stone Solsa, member of the domestic violence DGO working group, spoke of why the inclusive process is so vital. He thanked Asja, Emilie, Commissioner Leung, all the members of SFPD, and fellow community members present and thanked Commissioner Tekkey for inviting him to the Tenderloin community where he met Emilie and got involved with the working group. He thanked SFPD for including the community as it was an opportunity to prevent policy failures before they happen.

Daisy, member of the deaf and hard of hearing DGO working group, spoke of having two deaf adult children. She stated that it was a positive experience and learned of what police officers do and how important communication is for the deaf and hard of hearing. She thanked Asja and Emilie for how well the meetings were run. She spoke of technology for communicating with the deaf and hard of hearing community.

Vladimir Morrow (through an ASL interpreter), Access SOS, spoke of how excited he was to be involved in this policy group. He spoke of learning a lot and understanding the officer's perspectives of how to make it work and hopes to see better policies in the future.

Gavin thanked Emilie and Asja for how they organized the meetings. He spoke of how his mother is hearing impaired and spoke of the day-to-day things that the deaf and hard of hearing community have to go through and how it is extremely difficult. He thanked the Commission and the department for giving people who have a very difficult time communicating a voice.

John Costi (through an ASL interpreter), Office of Disability and Accessibility SF, spoke of the goals of the Office of Disability and Accessibility and that is to make sure any programs that run within the city are fully accessible to the deaf and hard of hearing community. He said he was enthralled to work on this DGO as the goals were in line with ODA. He spoke of several events happening in San Francisco advocating for the deaf and hard of hearing community, with over 3,000 attendees from all over the country. He stated he looks forward to future partnership with the Department leading up to this event.

Orchid Sasuni (through ASL interpreter), city and county employee of San Francisco representing the Mayor's Office on Disability. She spoke of the work done on the policy, DGO 5.23, Language Access, and how the card provides officers with a link to the community who are signers and for individuals who are more aligned to visual cues. She thanked everyone who worked on this policy.

Britney, District Attorney's Office Victim Advocate, spoke of how important this project was for her. She's been using sign language for 12 years and spoke of her best friend being deaf and a victim of domestic violence.
