NORMAN YEE

June 30, 2016

Dear Director Regina Dick-Endrizzi:

I am writing to nominate the Submarine Center at 820 Ulloa St to the Legacy Business Registry. The owner's contact info is below:

Armen Bedroussian
armenb1@hotmail.com
415-564-1455

The Submarine Center is a minority and family-owned gourmet deli shop that has served the greater West Portal neighborhood for over 30 years. Their sandwich recipes with their "secret sauce" have remained nearly unchanged for decades, the portions are generous, prices are reasonable and service is efficient—making it a neighborhood favorite. This is evidenced by their perpetual long lines.

I am proud to nominate the Submarine Center to the Legacy Business Registry and thank you for your serious consideration regarding their application.

Sincerely,

Submarine Center

Written Historical Narrative

Introduction

a. Describe the business. What does it sell or provide?

Submarine Center has been serving the West Portal neighborhood—and greater San Francisco—with classic, submarine-style sandwiches since 1981. Their sandwiches are made to order, toasted to perfection, and built with high-quality, locally sourced ingredients. With a wide range of customizable options, the menu includes something for everyone—from classics to customer favorites like the Hot Pastrami and the fan-favorite Atomic Sub.

b. Describe whom the business serves.

The business serves people of all ages, primarily from West Portal and nearby neighborhoods, while weekends often bring in visitors from across the greater Bay Area, all seeking the signature flavors and nostalgia that Submarine Center is known for.

c. In about 2-5 words (15-30 characters), describe what the business is known for.

Gourmet submarine-style sandwiches.

Criterion 1: The business has operated in San Francisco for 30 or more years, with no break in San Francisco operations exceeding two years

a. Provide a short history of the business, including locations and owners.

Submarine Center was founded in 1981 by Varoojan “John” Bedroussian at its current location at 820 Ulloa Street in the West Portal neighborhood. With the help of his wife, Diane Bedroussian, the two combined their prior restaurant experience to build one of San Francisco’s most sought-after sandwich shops, known for its authentic mom-and-pop feel. In 2013, their son, Armen Bedroussian, joined the business as a co-owner, continuing the family tradition.

b. Provide the ownership history of the business in a consolidated year-to-year format.

1981 to 2013: Varoojan Bedroussian; Diane Bedroussian

2013 to Present: Varoojan Bedroussian; Diane Bedroussian; Armen Bedroussian

c. Describe any circumstances that required the business to cease operations in San Francisco for any significant length of time.

Submarine Center has not ceased operations since it was established.

Criterion 2: The business has contributed to the neighborhood's history and/or the identity of a particular neighborhood or community

a. Describe the business' contribution to the history and/or identity of the neighborhood, community, business sector, or San Francisco as a whole.

Located in San Francisco's West Portal neighborhood, Submarine Center has been serving up legendary sandwiches since 1981. The business is more than just a sandwich shop—it's a fabric of the West Portal community. Family-owned and operated, they are proud to be the neighborhood's only sub shop and one of the few remaining original small businesses in the area.

Submarine Center began as a humble, no-frills mom-and-pop shop. It quickly gained a loyal following and evolved into a "well-oiled machine" beloved by locals. With their warm, family-style atmosphere and commitment to quality, Submarine Center has become a beloved tradition for generations. Many of its customers grew up on these sandwiches and continue to return with families of their own, keeping the neighborhood connection alive. What started as a hole-in-the-wall is now considered a true San Francisco institution.

b. Is the business associated with significant people or events, either now or in the past?

Not applicable.

c. How does the business demonstrate its commitment to the community?

Submarine Center regularly contributes to school fundraisers by donating gift certificates and other items to help raise money for educational programs and student activities. In addition, it provides catering services for a wide range of school events, including teacher appreciation lunches, staff meetings, and classroom celebrations.

In addition to working with schools, its owners are active members of the West Portal Merchants Association, working alongside fellow local businesses to strengthen and enrich their neighborhood.

d. Has the business ever been referenced in the media, business trade publication, and/or historical documents?

Submarine Center has earned recognition from Eater San Francisco, San Francisco Examiner, SFGATE, and other local media outlets and food critics, frequently landing on lists of the best sandwiches in San Francisco. Following are several media references listed from newest to oldest:

- Submarine Center a West Portal standby for decades

e. Has the business ever received any awards, recognition, or political commendations?

Submarine Center's dedication to the community has also been formally recognized. In 2018, the shop received a Certificate of Honor from then-Mayor Mark Farrell, and in 2020, a second Certificate of Honor was awarded by the San Francisco Board of Supervisors, honoring its decades-long contribution to the city and its neighborhoods.

f. How would the community be diminished if the business were to be sold, relocated, shut down, etc.?

If Submarine Center were to close, the city would lose far more than a sandwich shop—it would lose a living piece of its identity. Generations of residents, students, and families would lose a cherished gathering spot. The West Portal neighborhood would lose one of its most iconic and longstanding businesses, and hundreds—if not thousands—of devoted patrons would feel the absence deeply.

Criterion 3: The business is committed to maintaining the physical features or traditions that define the business

a. Is the business associated with a culturally significant building, structure, object, signage, mural, architectural detail, neon sign, or any other special physical feature that defines the business?

On the exterior, signage portrays a picture of a submarine sandwich, paired with a double-bladed sign highlighting business name.

b. In a few words, describe the main business activity you commit to maintaining.

A San Francisco staple, serving gourmet-style submarine sandwiches.

c. What is the plan to keep the business open in the long term beyond the current ownership?

The plan is to keep Submarine Center running indefinitely—and in the family—to preserve its legacy for generations to come.

d. What challenges is the business facing today?

Generally speaking, the City and County of San Francisco should make it easier for mom-and-pop business like Submarine Center to operate. The City should continue to support the West Portal neighborhood by addressing safety concerns, homelessness, vandalism, graffiti, etc.

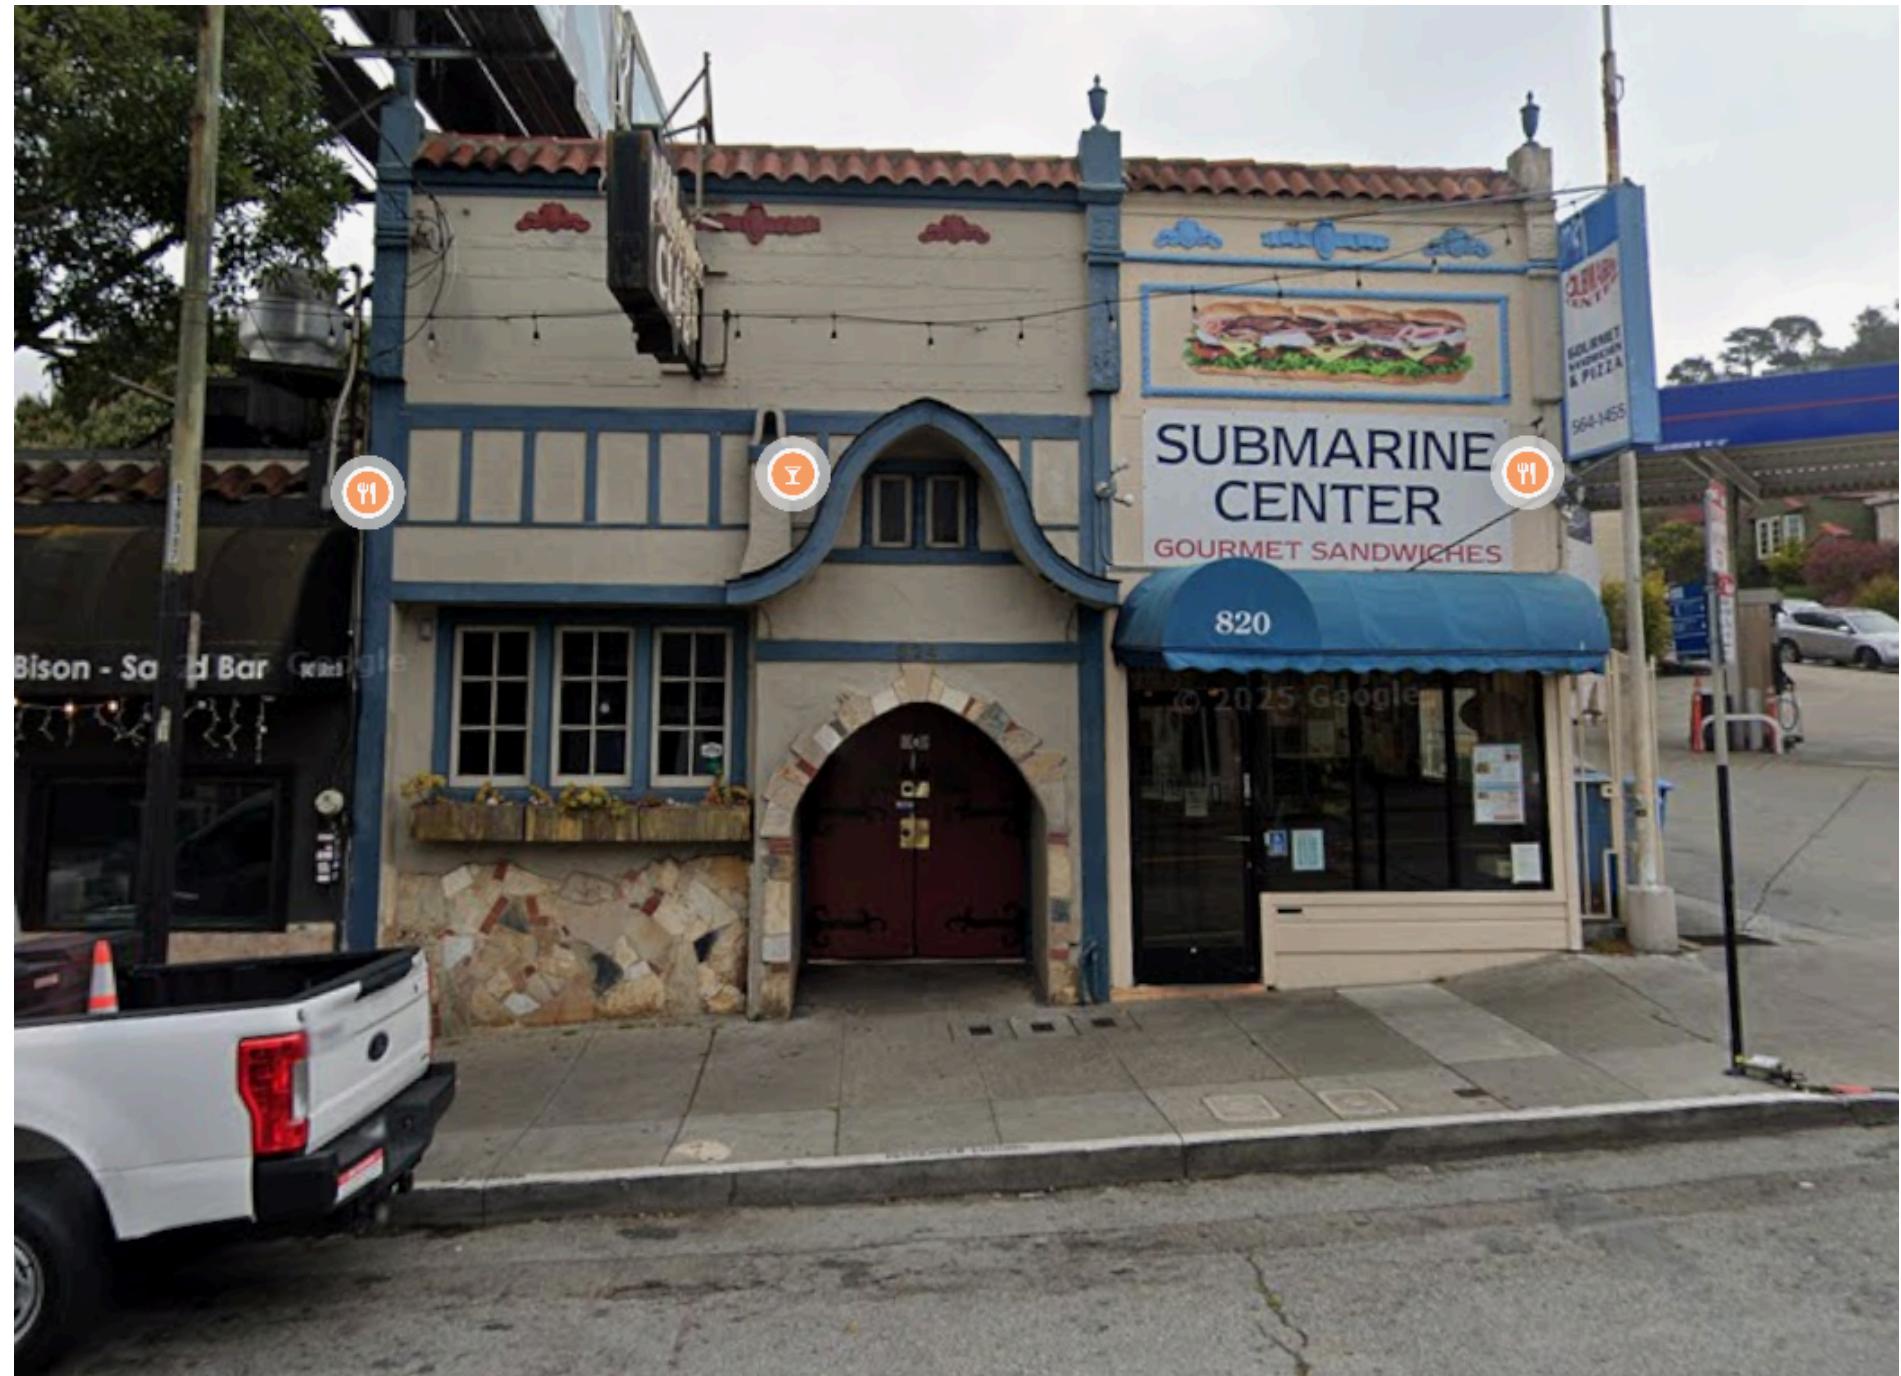

Legacy Business Program staff will add the following details:

a. Features or traditions that define the business and should be maintained for the business to remain on the Legacy Business Registry.

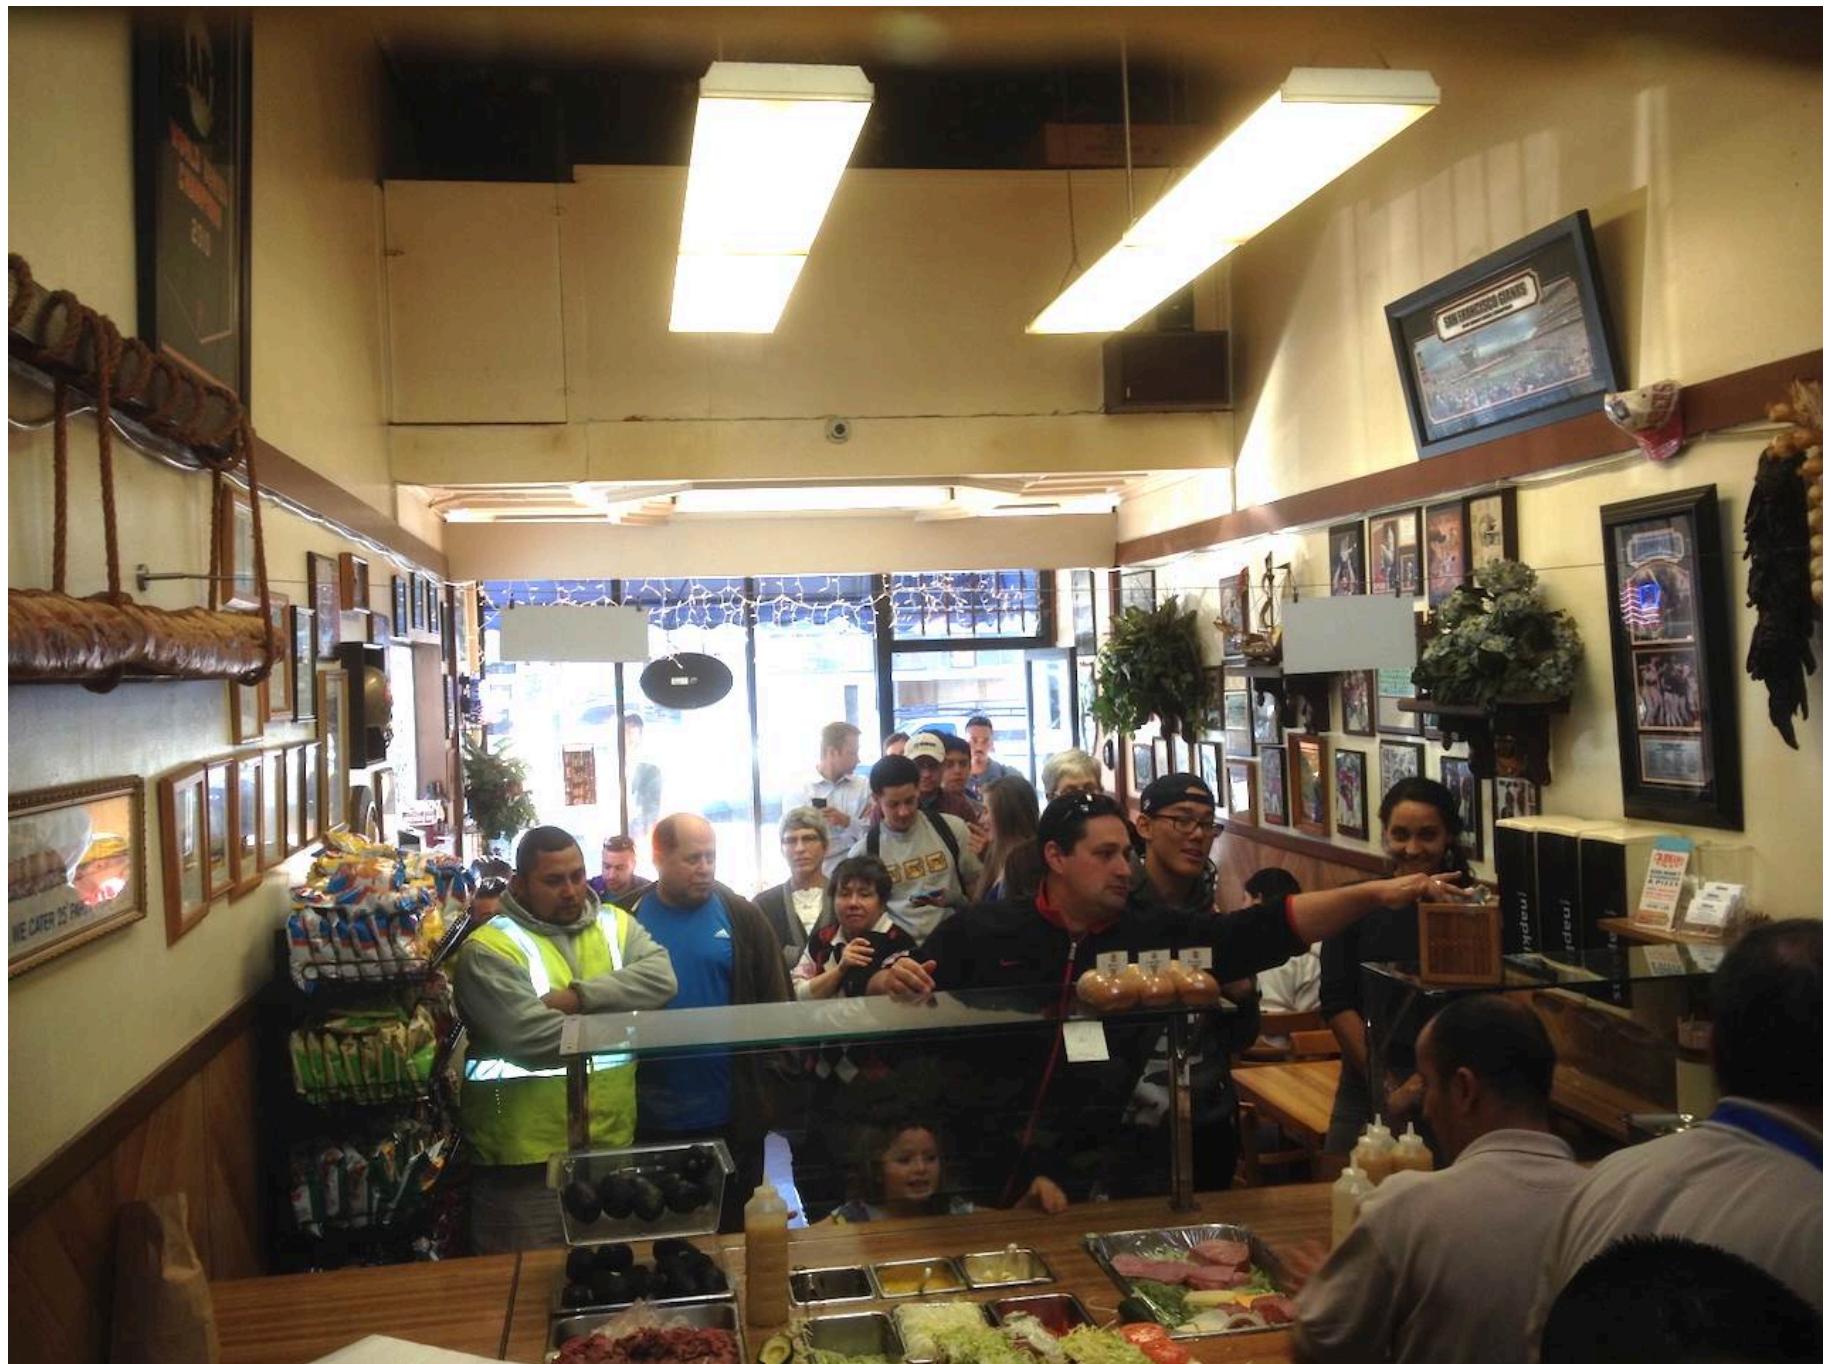

Restaurant featuring sandwiches.

b. Other special features of the business location, such as if the property associated with the business is listed on a local, state, or federal historic resources registry.

The Planning Department Historic Resource Status of the building at 820-824 Ulloa Street is “B - Unknown / Age Eligible.” The building “appears significant as a contributor to an identified cluster” per a 2015 survey.

RECOMMENDATION: Adopt a Resolution to Recommend Approval

Business Description

Submarine Center is a family-owned gourmet sandwich shop located at 820 Ulloa Street in San Francisco's West Portal neighborhood. Established in 1981 by Varoojan "John" Bedroussian and Diane Bedroussian, the business has operated continuously at the same location for more than four decades. In 2013, their son Armen Bedroussian joined as a co-owner, continuing the family tradition and ensuring long-term stewardship of the business.

From its beginnings as a small mom-and-pop deli, Submarine Center has grown into one of San Francisco's most recognized neighborhood sandwich shops. The business specializes in made-to-order submarine-style sandwiches prepared with high-quality, locally sourced ingredients. Its menu features a wide range of customizable options, including long-standing customer favorites such as the Hot Pastrami and the Atomic

Sub. Recipes, portion sizes, and service style have remained consistent over time, contributing to a strong sense of continuity and nostalgia among patrons.

Submarine Center serves residents of West Portal and surrounding neighborhoods, while also drawing weekend visitors from across the Bay Area. Over generations, the shop has built a loyal customer base, with many patrons returning from childhood into adulthood. The business maintains deep community ties through participation in school fundraisers, donations of gift certificates, catering for school events, and involvement in the West Portal Merchants Association.

Through longevity, family ownership, and consistent quality, Submarine Center represents the enduring presence of small businesses in San Francisco. Its sustained operation contributes meaningfully to the identity of the West Portal neighborhood and reflects the social history of long-running, community-serving eateries that continue to shape the city's commercial landscape.

Staff Analysis

No.

6. Is the business mentioned in a local historic context statement?

No, not as of the date of this Executive Summary.

7. Has the business been cited in published literature, newspapers, journals, etc.?

Yes. There have been a number of features and articles on the Submarine Center, namely from Eater San Francisco, the San Francisco Standard, The San Francisco Examiner, and SFGATE. These outlets often name the Submarine Center as part of media outlet's best sandwiches in San Francisco.

Racial and Social Equity Analysis

On July 15, 2020 the San Francisco Historic Preservation Commission adopted Resolution No. 1127 centering Preservation Planning on racial and social equity. Understanding the benefits, burdens, and opportunities to advance racial and social equity that proposed Preservation Planning documents provide is part of the Department's Racial and Social Equity Initiative. This is also consistent with the Mayor's Citywide Strategic Initiatives for equity and accountability and with the Office of Racial Equity, which required all Departments to conduct this analysis.

The Legacy Business Program is deeply intertwined with these goals. One of the primary purposes of the Legacy Business Program is to maintain San Francisco's cultural fabric and to foster civic engagement and pride by assisting long-operating businesses remain in the city. The Legacy Business Registry was established to recognize longstanding, community-serving businesses that are valuable cultural assets of the city. These businesses, ranging from restaurants to art galleries to tire shops to community shelters, are key to sustaining the racial and social diversity in San Francisco and adding to the identity and character of our city and the many communities within it.
