	Over decades, San Francisco's governing system - or city charter - has increasingly grown to reward city insiders. Mayor Lurie is leading a citywide coalition to make the system more accountable to everyday San Franciscans. Clean Up City Hall is a package of Props A, D, E and F to improve neighborhood services, speed up permitting and reduce wasteful spending so we can invest in our great city. PROP F TACKLES CITY HALL CORRUPTION. The current system allows departments to operate as independent fiefdoms instead of coordinated parts of government. It protects the insiders instead of holding them accountable. Six department heads have been indicted or investigated for corruption in the last decade. The mayor can only hire and remove a handful of department heads when self-dealing is exposed or they fail to do their job. CLEAR LINES OF ACCOUNTABILITY. Allowing the mayor to hire and remove most of their department heads will ensure city officials are accountable to the public. BETTER ORGANIZED DEPARTMENTS FOR BETTER RESULTS. Better organized and more accountable departments will deliver faster permits, cleaner streets and projects done on time and on budget. EXPOSES SELF-DEALING. "Departments that act as their own kingdoms are where corruption can grow. F makes it clear that every department head is ultimately accountable to the people of San Francisco" - Louise Renne, former San Francisco City Attorney & CA Deputy Attorney General STRENGTHENS CHECKS AND BALANCES. The Board of Supervisors will still have oversight over city departments and a majority of the Board can reject any changes the mayor makes. Watchdog commissions like Ethics and police oversight remain fully independent. San Francisco works best when we work in coalitions together.
