

DISTRICT 10 NEWSLETTER

SUPERVISOR SHAMANN WALTON

Dear Neighbors and Community,

We're writing to share an update on the Cesar Chavez Street Renaming Process. The Mayor's Office worked with co-chairs Assessor-Recorder Joaquín Torres and Susan Leal to form a community working group. Leal helped lead the original effort to rename the street in the 1990s, which voters affirmed through Proposition O. The group includes elected officials, including representatives from the offices of Supervisors Walton and Fielder, Board President Mandelman, Treasurer Cisneros, and Mayor Lurie, along with community leaders representing women, survivors, small businesses, labor, the Latino community, immigrant communities, and artists. Members were chosen for their deep ties to San Francisco and its neighborhoods, history, and the communities this issue affects.

The working group developed four criteria that a new name should reflect, building on the original process in the 1990s while taking into account the lived realities of Latino and immigrant communities today:

- Women's leadership and the lived experiences of survivors
- The labor and farmworker movement
- Latino heritage and immigrant contributions
- Honoring the movement over any individual

After considering several options, the group advanced two names for public input: Sí Se Puede and Las Campesinas.

Last night residents came together at the Cesar Chavez Street Renaming Community Meeting at Flynn Elementary School to share thoughts and perspectives on the street renaming process and these two names. We appreciate all who took the time to participate and contribute to this important community conversation.

If you were unable to attend that meeting or have more feedback to give, we invite you to provide feedback via our online form \(click here\).

The City welcomes your input. The working group will review public input and advance a recommended name to the Mayor. The change will then require legislative action by the Board of Supervisors, including public hearings and outreach by Public Works to affected residents and businesses. The City hopes to complete the process by the end of the year.

Thank you again for taking the time to participate and for sharing your perspective with us.

As always, if you have any questions or matters concerning District 10, please email my office at waltonstaff@sfgov.org.

In Community,

Supervisor Shamann Walton
