

[Celebrating the 155th Anniversary of the San Francisco Campus for Jewish Living]

Resolution celebrating the 155th anniversary of the San Francisco Campus for Jewish Living and commending its record of compassionate care for older adults and its contributions to the City and County of San Francisco.

WHEREAS, The San Francisco Campus for Jewish Living, one of the oldest senior healthcare institutions in the Bay Area, traces its founding to 1871, when it was incorporated as the Pacific Hebrew Orphan Asylum and Home Society to establish and support a home for aged and infirm members of San Francisco's Jewish community; and

WHEREAS, Formerly known as "The Jewish Home," the organization opened its doors to residents in the Excelsior in 1891 and, in 1923, opened a new Georgian Revival building designed by San Francisco architect Samuel Lightner Hyman; and

WHEREAS, Over the following century, the campus expanded repeatedly, adding new wings in 1945 and 1959, a 176-bed skilled nursing building in 1969, and the 82-bed Koret Center in 1984; and

WHEREAS, Today the San Francisco Campus for Jewish Living comprises the Jewish Home and Rehabilitation Center, with capacity for 375 patients and residents, and the 190-unit Lynne & Roy M. Frank Residences; and

WHEREAS, The San Francisco Campus for Jewish Living provides long-term skilled nursing, short-term rehabilitation, and acute geriatric psychiatric care through the Jewish Home and Rehabilitation Center, and assisted living and memory care through the Frank Residences; and

1 WHEREAS, The Jewish Home and Rehabilitation Center's 12-bed Acute Geriatric
2 Psychiatry Hospital is one of only a small number of specialized inpatient geriatric psychiatric 3 units in Northern California; and

4 WHEREAS, The San Francisco Campus for Jewish Living employs several hundred 5 clinical and allied health professionals and is regarded as one of the largest nonprofit 6 employers in the Excelsior; and

7 WHEREAS, The San Francisco Campus for Jewish Living trains the region's future 8 geriatric care workforce, hosting geriatric psychiatry fellows through partnerships with the 9 University of California, San Francisco Department of Psychiatry and California Pacific 10 Medical Center, and nursing students from San Francisco State University, the University of 11 San Francisco, and Dominican University of California; and

12 WHEREAS, The San Francisco Campus for Jewish Living's Memory Care Experience 13 Station, a multisensory therapy developed for residents with dementia, was named a finalist in 14 Fast Company's World Changing Ideas Awards and LeadingAge California's Innovation
15 Showcase, and received an honorable mention from the SCAN Foundation's Innovation 16 Award; and

17 WHEREAS, In 2024, the San Francisco Campus for Jewish Living absorbed more than 18 $2.2 million in unreimbursed costs providing care to Medi-Cal patients and joined the San 19 Francisco Department of Public Health and other city partners in developing the San 20 Francisco Health Improvement Partnership's Community Health Needs Assessment; and

21 WHEREAS, The San Francisco Campus for Jewish Living serves more than 2,500
22 individuals and families each year and will mark its 155th anniversary with a Campus-wide 23 Celebration on July 29, 2026, honoring a century and a half of service to older adults across 24 San Francisco; now, therefore, be it
